1.The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2.Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ma (6,673,285) as set forth in the previous Office action.

3.Applicants' arguments filed January 11, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue (1) that it is clear (from the claim language) that the low molecular weight oligomer (pore former) and the bioresorbable polymer are mixed in an organic solvent, (2) that the claims require more than an inherent dissolving of low molecular weight material by a solvent (the inherency of which is also disputed by applicants), and (3) that Ma teaches casting a biodegradable polymer solution onto a 3-D negative replica of a desired microporous architecture formed from paraffin spheres (pore former) to form a polymer foam. But to the examiner, when the solution of polymer in pyridine is cast over the paraffin sphere assembly, as disclosed by Ma at column 10, lines 8-18, at least some of the outer surface portions of the sphere assembly contacted by the pyridine would dissolve such that the "dissolving" step of claims 1 and 27 are readable on Ma.

Concerning the position on "inherency" taken by the examiner, applicants argue that MPEP 2112 in part states that the fact that a certain result or characteristic may occur or be present in the prior art is not sufficient to establish the inherency of that result or characteristic but that extrinsic evidence must make clear that the missing descriptive matter is necessarily present in what is described in the reference and that it would be so recognized by one of ordinary skill in the art. But the examiner believes that such extrinsic evidence has been provided by showing that paraffin wax is soluble in pyridine.

4.THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

5.Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Allan Kuhns whose telephone number is (571) 272-1202. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Thursday from 7:00 to 5:30.
